What is a University pathway program?

A university pathway program is educational for students who do not meet the entry requirements to enroll in a traditional four-year degree course. Typically, students are required to complete two years of study before being able to enter the fourth year at the university of their choice. This program aims to prepare students for higher education and improve their chances of success once they are accepted at a university.

Why Choose Pathway Programs?

Pursuing a pathway program has become necessary due to the complexities and intricacies of overseas courses' curricula.

Listed below are a few reasons that will help you understand why it is essential to pursue a foundational program-

- Strengthening the necessary language skills that help one understand each and every bit of the course
- Ample time to decide on the particular field of study
- Enhances your chances of securing a seat in the program of their choice
- Pathway programs help one mold according to the society leading to a lesser cultural shock
- By taking this course, you are exempted from appearing in English language proficiency tests like IELTS, TOEFL, etc
